

The Foe of L. E. Quigg.

ROOSEVELT AT BLACK'S TOWN.

Introduced by the Governor to a Question-Asking Audience.

HAD TO TALK "CANALS."

In Spite of the Executive's Presence the Subject Would Not Down.

HONESTY AND COURAGE SPEECH.

It Was Made at Both Towns to Enthusiastic Audiences Which Filled the Halls.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 2.—For three hours to-night Colonel Roosevelt played battle-door and shuttlecock between the voters of Albany and Troy. He addressed two meetings. At Troy there were 1,500 people in the Grand Opera House.

At the Harmonus Bleeker Hall, in this city, there were fully 3,000 people when Colonel Roosevelt arrived at 10 o'clock.

The Republican candidate arrived at Troy at 5 o'clock, accompanied by Abe Gruber, With Governor and Mrs. Black the party proceeded to the house of Charles S. Francis, where they took dinner.

The talk or more of torpedoes over which the train had passed and the blare of the hands at the station had not affected Colonel Roosevelt's appetite to any extent. He ate a hearty meal and then proceeded to show Governor Black the notes of a speech he had prepared for the voters of Troy.

Governor Black was apparently horrified to find in the speech a fierce arraignment of "Bat" Shea, the Troy politician. He persuaded Colonel Roosevelt to forego his intention.

There were no decorations at the Opera House. The crowd was dense, but orderly. At 7:30 the street in front of the doors was packed. Inside the stage was crowded, the parquette was filled and the upper gallery was jammed with spectators. But somebody had lost the key to the balcony, and it was absolutely empty.

Colonel Roosevelt and his party arrived at 8 o'clock. They were preceded by red fire and a tumultuous parade.

They came jumping through the stage entrance in a sort of revolving mob of policemen and politicians. Everybody stood up and cheered. The hall and balcony were filled with the sound of cheering.

At the Harmonus Bleeker Hall, in this city, there were fully 3,000 people when Colonel Roosevelt arrived at 10 o'clock.

The Republican candidate arrived at Troy at 5 o'clock, accompanied by Abe Gruber, With Governor and Mrs. Black the party proceeded to the house of Charles S. Francis, where they took dinner.

The talk or more of torpedoes over which the train had passed and the blare of the hands at the station had not affected Colonel Roosevelt's appetite to any extent. He ate a hearty meal and then proceeded to show Governor Black the notes of a speech he had prepared for the voters of Troy.

Governor Black was apparently horrified to find in the speech a fierce arraignment of "Bat" Shea, the Troy politician. He persuaded Colonel Roosevelt to forego his intention.

There were no decorations at the Opera House. The crowd was dense, but orderly. At 7:30 the street in front of the doors was packed. Inside the stage was crowded, the parquette was filled and the upper gallery was jammed with spectators. But somebody had lost the key to the balcony, and it was absolutely empty.

Colonel Roosevelt and his party arrived at 8 o'clock. They were preceded by red fire and a tumultuous parade.

They came jumping through the stage entrance in a sort of revolving mob of policemen and politicians. Everybody stood up and cheered. The hall and balcony were filled with the sound of cheering.

At the Harmonus Bleeker Hall, in this city, there were fully 3,000 people when Colonel Roosevelt arrived at 10 o'clock.

The Republican candidate arrived at Troy at 5 o'clock, accompanied by Abe Gruber, With Governor and Mrs. Black the party proceeded to the house of Charles S. Francis, where they took dinner.

The talk or more of torpedoes over which the train had passed and the blare of the hands at the station had not affected Colonel Roosevelt's appetite to any extent. He ate a hearty meal and then proceeded to show Governor Black the notes of a speech he had prepared for the voters of Troy.

Governor Black was apparently horrified to find in the speech a fierce arraignment of "Bat" Shea, the Troy politician. He persuaded Colonel Roosevelt to forego his intention.

There were no decorations at the Opera House. The crowd was dense, but orderly. At 7:30 the street in front of the doors was packed. Inside the stage was crowded, the parquette was filled and the upper gallery was jammed with spectators. But somebody had lost the key to the balcony, and it was absolutely empty.

Colonel Roosevelt and his party arrived at 8 o'clock. They were preceded by red fire and a tumultuous parade.

They came jumping through the stage entrance in a sort of revolving mob of policemen and politicians. Everybody stood up and cheered. The hall and balcony were filled with the sound of cheering.

At the Harmonus Bleeker Hall, in this city, there were fully 3,000 people when Colonel Roosevelt arrived at 10 o'clock.

The Republican candidate arrived at Troy at 5 o'clock, accompanied by Abe Gruber, With Governor and Mrs. Black the party proceeded to the house of Charles S. Francis, where they took dinner.

The talk or more of torpedoes over which the train had passed and the blare of the hands at the station had not affected Colonel Roosevelt's appetite to any extent. He ate a hearty meal and then proceeded to show Governor Black the notes of a speech he had prepared for the voters of Troy.

Governor Black was apparently horrified to find in the speech a fierce arraignment of "Bat" Shea, the Troy politician. He persuaded Colonel Roosevelt to forego his intention.

There were no decorations at the Opera House. The crowd was dense, but orderly. At 7:30 the street in front of the doors was packed. Inside the stage was crowded, the parquette was filled and the upper gallery was jammed with spectators. But somebody had lost the key to the balcony, and it was absolutely empty.

Colonel Roosevelt and his party arrived at 8 o'clock. They were preceded by red fire and a tumultuous parade.

They came jumping through the stage entrance in a sort of revolving mob of policemen and politicians. Everybody stood up and cheered. The hall and balcony were filled with the sound of cheering.

At the Harmonus Bleeker Hall, in this city, there were fully 3,000 people when Colonel Roosevelt arrived at 10 o'clock.

The Republican candidate arrived at Troy at 5 o'clock, accompanied by Abe Gruber, With Governor and Mrs. Black the party proceeded to the house of Charles S. Francis, where they took dinner.

The talk or more of torpedoes over which the train had passed and the blare of the hands at the station had not affected Colonel Roosevelt's appetite to any extent. He ate a hearty meal and then proceeded to show Governor Black the notes of a speech he had prepared for the voters of Troy.

Governor Black was apparently horrified to find in the speech a fierce arraignment of "Bat" Shea, the Troy politician. He persuaded Colonel Roosevelt to forego his intention.

There were no decorations at the Opera House. The crowd was dense, but orderly. At 7:30 the street in front of the doors was packed. Inside the stage was crowded, the parquette was filled and the upper gallery was jammed with spectators. But somebody had lost the key to the balcony, and it was absolutely empty.

Colonel Roosevelt and his party arrived at 8 o'clock. They were preceded by red fire and a tumultuous parade.

Chance for Democratic Victory Here.

THAT section of Brooklyn known as Williamsburg will send an advocate of the Journal policy in Congress to Washington next winter in the person of Mitchell May, Democratic candidate.

The district is normally Democratic, but has been represented for two terms by a Republican. By nominating Mr. May, however, the Democrats have made sure of carrying the district.

Mr. May upholds every plank in the Journal platform. He has been brought up among the people of his district and knows that they, too, are for the great national principles advocated by the Journal. He was born about twenty-eight years ago and raised in the Thirteenth Ward, Brooklyn, and is the son of Nathan May, one of the prominent wholesale butchers of that borough. His education was begun at a military school in College Point, L. I. He afterward attended and graduated from Public School No. 10, and from the Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute, and later he became a student of Columbia College, graduating with high honors.

He was admitted to the bar shortly afterward and entered the law office of a prominent New York law firm, where he remained for several years. Having by that time acquired a thorough knowledge of law and having a large clientele of his own, in 1885 he opened an office in the Garfield building, Brooklyn, and now has a lucrative practice.

Mr. May has all his life been a staunch Democrat, and since his majority has manifested his interest in his party by his unceasing efforts in behalf of its candidates in the past. Last year he was especially active and his successful record in the convention which nominated him, and is supported, not only by every Democratic voter in his district, but by a large number of Republicans.

also spoke, as did Patrick Convery, candidate for Congress.

Mr. Crane is very much pleased with his campaign tour through the State. He will have visited every county except Oswego by Saturday night, which will end his third week of campaigning. He feels confident of being elected.

The fact that defeat at the polls seems staring them in the face has aroused the Republicans of New Jersey to a degree of partisan activity, in which misrepresentation and falsehoods figure. The charge is now made by a Republican newspaper in Elizabeth that Elvin W. Crane did all he could as a legislator to "break down the legal protection afforded young girls" by voting to reduce the "age of consent" from sixteen to fourteen years.

The preposterous nature of this charge is shown by the fact that it was Mr. Crane who in 1887 introduced and had passed in the Legislature a measure now known as the "Crane Act," which increased the "age of consent" from fourteen to sixteen years. Therefore exactly the opposite of what is charged against Mr. Crane was his actual course in this matter.

A big Democratic rally was held at Orange Valley last night. Columbus Hall was crowded with enthusiastic voters, 90 per cent of the entire assembly being haters from the district. At every mention of Candidate Crane's name the audience arose and cheered, and when Assembly Candidates Barrett and Connolly were introduced there was prolonged applause. Mr. Barrett is a favorite among the haters, as Barrett is given the honor of urging the passage of a bill in the Legislature taking the manufacture of hats from the State prisons.

Mr. Crane, on his arrival in New Brunswick, was met by a large Reception Committee, headed by Peter Francis Daly, chairman of the Democratic County Executive Committee, and was escorted to the Mansion House. He dined with Millard F. Ross, son of Hon. Miles Ross; Oliver C. Kelly, E. H. Radel and others. Dinner was scarcely over when the head of the procession arrived, and Mr. Crane was hustled into a coach and fell into line. He was continually greeted with cheers by the crowds, which lined the streets on the route to Columbia Hall, where the mass meeting was held. The hall was packed to overflowing, more than 2,000 persons being present.

Mr. Crane was the chief speaker, and made a very favorable impression. He referred to the unity of the party throughout the State, and to the expense administration of affairs by the Republicans. The labor question was also touched upon.

Hon. William McAdoo, of Jersey City, Stubbish Colds that hang on and make life a burden may soon be relieved and ultimately cured by a simple remedy with no disagreeable after effects. It has a tonic action on the throat and lungs which makes it invaluable in this changeable climate.

HALE'S Honey of Horehound and Tar,

Pike's Toothache Drops cure in one minute.

Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye, Black and Brown, 50 cents.

A Special Offer

Wellington Typewriter No. 2.

Send $60 and we will deliver, carriage paid, a

Wellington Typewriter No. 2.

Send $60 and we will deliver, carriage paid, a

Wellington Typewriter No. 2.

Send $60 and we will deliver, carriage paid, a

Wellington Typewriter No. 2.

Send $60 and we will deliver, carriage paid, a

Wellington Typewriter No. 2.

Send $60 and we will deliver, carriage paid, a

Wellington Typewriter No. 2.

Send $60 and we will deliver, carriage paid, a

DEFEAT FOR ELLSWORTH SURE.

Democrats in His District Have the Press-Gagger on the Run.

MONEY FLOWING FREELY.

On That Patronage the Senator Depends for Re-election.

Lockport, N. Y., Nov. 3.—From one end of the Forty-fifth Senatorial District to the other the Democrats are waging an active and intelligent campaign. The target they are shooting at is Senator Timothy E. Ellsworth, whose defeat now seems certain.

If all the Republicans who dislike him, together with those who have promised to vote against him, vote for candidate Dye, Ellsworth will be badly beaten.

The fight centres in Niagara County, because it is the home of Ellsworth, and, of course, the place where his enemies are thickest. Here he has distributed upward of forty-five thousand dollars' worth of patronage a year; it is here that he wields the greatest financial influence and where his business interests are large and diverse.

In most cases a candidate is strongest in his own county, but last year, mainly through Ellsworth's malign influence, the county sent two Democratic Assembliesmen to the Legislature. Three years ago he ran nearly nineteen hundred behind his ticket, and any candidate for a small office who appears bearing the Ellsworth label is doomed at the outset to defeat.

This has been the political history of the county for half a dozen years, and that there will be no change in the record is certain. The Democratic candidates for Assembly, Charles F. Foley, of Lockport, and Henry S. Tompkins, of Niagara, are almost certain of success. Two things will contribute to it. One is the fact that the county has become Democratic primarily through the influences of Ellsworth, and the other is the people are desirous of rebuking the Republican machine for foisting Ellsworth again upon them. In every section of the county Democratic meetings are being held, literature is being circulated, and more or less red fire is being burned.

On Tuesday night the largest political meeting of the history of this county was held at Niagara Falls. Among the speakers were former Senator O'Sullivan, former Assemblyman Otto Kummer, Edgar J. Taylor, candidate for District Attorney, and W. Cary Ely. A monster parade preceded the meeting. To-morrow night, there will be another Democratic rally at the Falls, to be followed by yet another one on Saturday night. The Democratic press throughout the whole district is doing valiant work against the press gagger. The Union Sun of Lockport, knowing Ellsworth better than the majority of the other papers, naturally takes the lead in the fight. Here are a few extracts from the Democratic press, showing the vigorous manner in which the battle against the Senator is being waged.

If the Ellsworth bill had become a law, the official scandal could never have been disclosed. That is the chief reason why the Ellsworth bill is being so vigorously opposed by the Republican press gagger.

On one side are the politicians and the Ellsworth bill. On the other side are the people who grow rich out of the people's want to check public corruption in the acts and words of the true champion of the people's cause.

Many Republican papers show their antagonism to Ellsworth by many bitter comments. Here is a sample from the Buffalo Express, a Republican organ:

Ellsworth has undertaken to defend his bill on the stump. He would better let had enough alone. His best policy is to divert attention from himself as much as possible by keeping his mouth shut.

Fifteenth District Meets To-night.

The Tammany Hall organization of the Fifteenth Assembly District will hold a ratification meeting at Wendel's Assembly Rooms, No. 334 West Fourth street, to-night. The speakers will include Senator Grady, Maurice F. Hollahan, Jefferson M. Smith, Lindsay Gordon, George W. Frankfort and John Quinn.

Labor Supports Featherston.

The opponents of Maurice Featherston, Democratic leader of the Twenty-eighth Assembly District, who is candidate for re-election as State Senator, have had much certain evidence of his labor record. President William J. O'Brien, of the Board of Working Delegates, has sent Mr. Featherston an open letter in which he describes the Senator's labor record as excellent.

If life were one long summer day and its journey through a garden of flowers, it might be possible for people to be careless of their health without fearing evil results. Unfortunately, since Adam and Eve were driven from the Garden of Eden, life has not been a joyous journey through a garden of flowers. Man must earn bread by the sweat of his brow, and woman must bring forth children in pain and suffering.

In both cases the curse is multiplied many times over because both men and women neglect their health. Man's toil is rendered a thousand times harder by the added burden of ill-health. The woman is a still greater sufferer. She suffers in silence untold agonies from weakness and disease in a womanly way. Motherhood becomes to her a menace of death, and her babes are born with the seeds of disease already implanted in their little bodies.

There is but one unfailing remedy for women who suffer in this way. It is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs that bear the brunt of maternity. It makes them strong, healthy, vigorous, virile and elastic. It allays inflammation, heals ulceration, soothes pain and tones and builds up the tortured nerves. It fits for wifehood and motherhood. It does away with the trials of the period of apprehension and makes baby's advent easy and almost painless. Thousands have testified to its marvelous merits.

"I was afflicted for four years with local weakness, but would not confess it for a time," writes Mrs. Amelia Woodall, of Bateman, Patrick Co., Va. "I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and they cured me. I cannot praise Dr. Pierce's medicines too much."

West 14th St. ESTD 1807. COWPERTHWAIT'S "RELIABLE" CARPETS

"Wise Men of Gotham,"

not three, but thousands, have beautified their homes with our "Reliable" bargains.

All Wool

Kidderminster Art Squares,

Averaging from

6x9 ft. - - - $3.50

9x13.6 ft. - - - 8.00

12 patterns in each size.

Bright colorings and designs—both Oriental and floral—particularly fine for dining-rooms and bedrooms.

Our "Long Credit" allows you to pay whenever convenient.

CASH OR CREDIT

COWPERTHWAIT & CO.

104 106 and 108 West 14th St. NEAR 6TH AV.

Brooklyn Stores: Flatbush Av. near Fulton St.

America's Largest CREDIT CLOTHES AND TAILORS.

CAREY & SIDES

HAVE REMOVED TO

56-58 4th Ave.

COR. NINTH ST.

MEN'S and BOYS'

CLOTHING

ON CREDIT.

"It is a long time that hasn't got a turn."

WEEKLY and MONTHLY PAYMENTS.

Keane's Handsome Parlor Suits.

Anything and everything for the house, and every article is attractive and durable.

There's no cheapening in workmanship or finish to lower the prices. Yet for GOOD furniture no prices are lower and no terms are easier than Keane's.

Handsome five-piece Parlor Suits, over-stuffed, and covered with satin damask, in variety of patterns, $27.50

JAS. R. KEANE & CO., Modern House Furnishers,

3rd Ave. and 77th St., N. Y.

THERE'S NEWS IN JOURNAL "WANTS."

BETTING WAS DEAD YESTERDAY.

The betting men took a rest yesterday after the rush of the last few days, and wagers were down to a minimum. In Wall Street there was practically no money placed.

Bell & Co.'s betting man, Eddie Talcott, was away. Some of the visitors almost shed tears when they found that there was no Van Wyck money to cover at the prevailing odds of 7 to 10. They were told that there was an abundance of cash up at the Hoffman House, where Len Wage had an open purse to accommodate any bet from $1 to $50,000, but at even money. No money was taken.

Joe Vendig promises to satisfy the Wall Street Republican crowd to-day with all the betting they care to take. He says he will visit the street and, at odds of 5 to 4, will take all the offers he can secure and to any amount. He hopes to make a pack Friday of it for the Roosevelt followers. If the heavy bookmaker keeps his promise the odds will be 5 to 4, where he will locate, promise to be a very busy center.

Frank Kenney did not place a cent on the election yesterday. There is no money in betting in sight," he said, "except at odds which are out of all proportion. I am not a betting man. I am a Democrat."

Len Wage has $50,000 even at the Democratic headquarters. "There were plenty of Republican visitors, but when they said 10 to 6 they are out of my reach," he said.

ODELL MAKES A MODEST(?) CLAIM.

"I claim the State of New York for Colonel Roosevelt by at least forty thousand plurality," said Chairman Benjamin Odell in a divided statement given out last night. "The closing of a careful canvass of the up-State counties," he continues, "convinces me that a plurality large enough to more than offset any possible plurality that can be obtained in New York by Tammany Hall is assured."

Chairman Campbell, of the Democratic State Committee, pronounced Odell's claims of forty thousand plurality for Roosevelt ridiculous. "Judge Van Wyck will carry the State by from forty to fifty thousand plurality, if not more. That is all I care to say."

"Only forty thousand claimed now?" exclaimed Chairman McCutcheon, of the Democratic Campaign Committee, "quite a drop from the two hundred thousand prophesied by Dr. Depew at Saratoga, isn't it? I shall not give out any figures until Sunday night. But the situation is abundantly satisfactory."

WARD MADE A JUDGE BY BLACK.

Just as Mr. Frederic A. Ward was leaving his office on the seventh floor of the Bank of Commerce building Wednesday afternoon, a messenger boy handed him a telegram. He opened it and read the following message from Governor Black, in Albany: "How do you spell your name?"

WARD MADE A JUDGE BY BLACK.

Just as Mr. Frederic A. Ward was leaving his office on the seventh floor of the Bank of Commerce building Wednesday afternoon, a messenger boy handed him a telegram. He opened it and read the following message from Governor Black, in Albany: "How do you spell your name?"

"That's an extraordinary question for the Governor to ask," mused Mr. Ward. However, he answered the telegram.

Yesterday came the sequel in the form of another telegram from the same source, announcing that Mr. Ward had been appointed Justice of the Supreme Court in the Second Judicial District, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Judge Augustus Van Wyck, a position for which Mr. Ward is now a candidate on the Republican ticket.

The term for which Judge Van Wyck was elected expires January 1 next, so that should the Democratic ticket be elected, Mr. Ward will be a Judge for little more than two months. In case of Republican victory, however, he will be his own successor.

Democracy Refuses Laborers' Aid.

P. J. Scully, Tammany leader of the Twelfth Assembly District, has refused to accept any contributions from the laborers of his district who have as wages $2 a day or less.

B. Altman & Co.

A display and sale of Rare Antique Oriental Rugs and Carpets will be held in a few days, affording Collectors and Connoisseurs an opportunity for securing valuable specimens of Oriental Art.

Rug Department, Third Floor.

Anything To Sell?

Use Journal "Wants." They'll find the buyer.